The MILESTONES staff would like to thank Mr. Hap Minhinnett for his school dance candids, Mr. Bill Benson for his assistance to the staff, and Mr. Peter Goodwin for his art work.

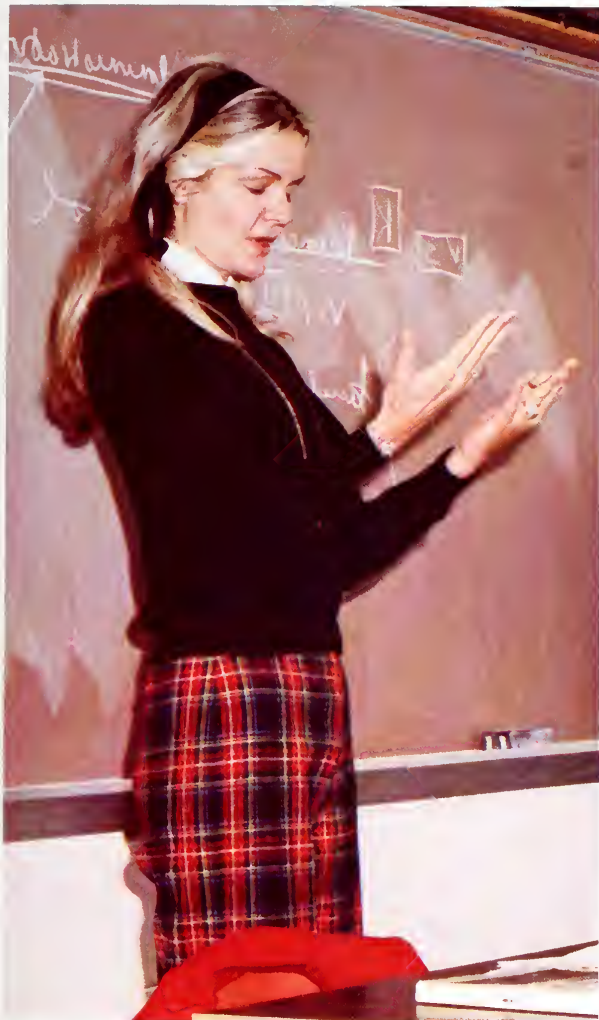

Individual portraits and group pictures have been taken by Mr. Togue Uchida; color reproductions are by Mrs. T. G. Pennington of Pennington Gallery.

MILESTONES 1983 is a publication of Harpeth Hall School, Nashville, Tennessee, printed by Herff-Jones Yearbooks.

Cover design: Mr. Peter Goodwin.

Dedication: Mrs. Ginger Justus

Mrs. Justus has contributed enormously to the spirit of Harpeth Hall, both as a student and also during her years as a teacher. She represents not only the traditions of honor and excellence which Harpeth Hall so highly values but also the qualities of innovation and creativity.

After graduating from Harpeth Hall, Mrs. Justus attended the University of Tennessee, where she earned a B.S. degree. She went on to receive a master's degree in education from Peabody College. Eager to pursue another field, she then attended the YMCA Law School and graduated at the top of her class. Because of her many interests, she is truly a unique member of our community.

Mrs. Justus helped to research, plan, and execute two major changes at Harpeth Hall. Along with Mrs. Watterfield and Mrs. Davis, she suggested and organized the first Leadership Conference, which included an in-school workshop on parliamentary procedure. She also proposed the change to a two-club system for intramurals. On a daily basis, she is one of the most dynamic teachers at Harpeth Hall. She creates a positive, energetic atmosphere in which students are eager to learn. She actively supports extracurricular activities; as sponsor of the Sophomore Class and a coordinator of the two clubs, she volunteers her time for such causes as the senior lunch auction. She has also been a leader in such administrative projects as the Curriculum Committee. Because of her devotion in the complete education of young women, the yearbook staff dedicates MILESTONES 1983 to Mrs. Ginger Justus.

Our years at Harpeth Hall are a time for learning, a time of laughter and term papers, tears and study halls.

We grow taller and older . . .

We learn logarithms and literature ...

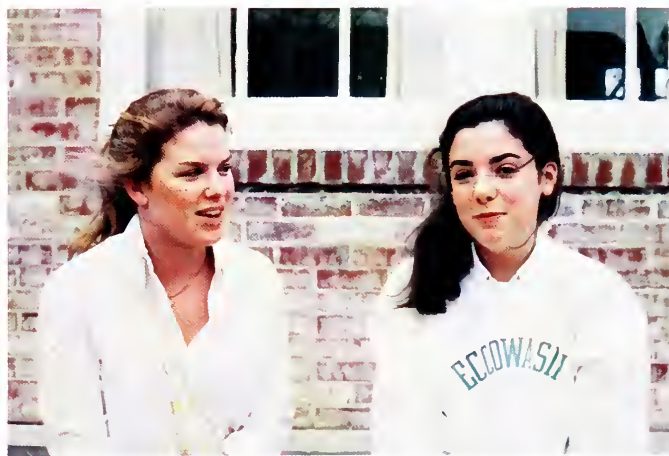

We learn more about ourselves by learning about others:

our years at Harpeth Hall are a time for growth.

Each girl is full of promise,
like the seed of a flower . . .

Some will bloom more quickly than others, but each begins by growing tentative roots . . .

... and then becomes stronger every day.

branching out in all directions,
unfurling shiny new leaves . . .

and blooming into a unique flower.

In Memory of Dr. Daugh W. Smith: The First Gentleman of Harpeth Hall

Dr. Daugh W. Smith, a founder of Harpeth Hall and Chairman of the Board of Trustees for 25 years, died January 20, 1983. When Dr. Smith retired as chairman in 1977, the trustees bestowed on him the title of chairman emeritus and life member of the board and awarded him the Dede Wallace Award for Distinguished Service to Harpeth Hall.

Dr. Smith's love for Harpeth Hall can be seen everywhere on the campus. He could literally call each tree, shrub, and flower by name and personally supervised all planting and cultivation of the landscaping. Because of his "special touch" and his unique knowledge of growing things, the Harpeth Hall campus has retained its natural loveliness over the years.

Dr. Smith was also a champion of education for young women. He was consistent in his efforts to keep Harpeth Hall an outstanding independent school for girls and was instrumental in the acquisition of each major building project on the campus—the Bullard Gymnasium and classroom addition, 1954; the Wallace Wing, 1977; the Annie C. Allison Library, 1965; the Daugh W. Smith Middle School, 1968; and the McMurry Center, 1977. His dream for many years had been a new science building to replace our crowded and inadequate chemistry and biology laboratories and to provide space for the computer sciences and an addition to the Middle School to accommodate the sixth grade classrooms.

Harpeth Hall lost an advocate and a friend. Dr. Smith will be deeply missed by all. His immeasurable gift of love and time to Harpeth Hall will remain unequalled. As the plaque in the Daugh W. Smith Memorial Garden appropriately reads, "He did not count the hours."

Faculty and Staff

David Wood: Headmaster

As headmaster of Harpeth Hall, Mr. Wood has striven not merely to maintain the traditionally high standards of the school, but also to improve the Harpeth Hall community in every aspect possible. In his third year as headmaster, he has completed many of the long-term changes begun during the establishment of the new administration. He has also worked to keep open channels of communication. By remaining a staunch supporter of extracurricular activities, particularly of varsity sports, Mr. Wood is anxious to raise school spirit.

Faced with a myriad of responsibilities at Harpeth Hall, he must meet regularly with committees of all school interests, including those composed of faculty, parents, and alumnae.

Besides monitoring the activities and development of Harpeth Hall, he also researches new ideas by attending various educators' conferences throughout the year.

Mr. Wood has gained his administrative skill through years of experience in education. He graduated from Davidson College and Middle Tennessee State University and taught at B.G.A. After serving as Director of Admissions at Vanderbilt University, he became headmaster of U.M.S., a preparatory school for boys in Mobile, Alabama. At Harpeth Hall, Mr. Wood uses this knowledge effectively, promoting a harmonious atmosphere through his concern for the welfare of the entire school community.

Joanna Rutter: Director of the Upper School

In her first year as Director of the Upper School, Mrs. Rutter has filled a crucial position. From her headquarters in Souby Hall, she meets a great variety of responsibilities given her by Harpeth Hall. To some students, she is best recognized in her necessary role of school disciplinarian. To those students who are fortunate enough to get to know her on a less formal basis, she reveals a warmth of caring and a delightful sense of humor.

Besides ensuring adherence to the rules, Mrs. Rutter also handles all class scheduling and excused absences. She advises students about any problems they may have with their schedules or with particular classes or teachers. She also mediates parent-faculty relations as well as those between students and faculty.

Mrs. Rutter attended the University of Alabama, Stratford, and Winthrop; after beginning to raise a family, she returned to the classroom to graduate from Stratford at the age of thirty-two. A former Director of Admissions and Financial Aid at Stratford, she then became Head of Guidance at the Charlotte Latin School in North Carolina. Having moved to Nashville, she is adjusting to her new position at Harpeth Hall and is proving to the community her talent for organizing the activities and day-to-day administration of the Upper School.

Polly Fessey: Director of the Middle School

Throughout her fourteen years of service to the Middle School, Miss Fessey has been continually supportive of the students, faculty, and opportunities offered there. She is a pillar of the administration, directing all the activities, counseling students, and researching changes in curriculum. Working closely with the Upper School, she upholds the standards of the school in the interest of providing students the best possible preparatory education so that they might fully benefit from their future opportunities at Harpeth Hall.

While Miss Fessey is a person of diverse interests, she is extremely dedicated to each of her priorities. She not only oversees the Middle School but also plays an active role in her church and community. She has contributed to the maintenance of high standards at Harpeth Hall, as during the extensive re-evaluation of the school last year. She has served as both treasurer and secretary of the Mid-South Association of Independent Schools, which has awarded her a special Honorary Citation. She is also a leader in the Cumberland Valley Girl Scout program. The endearing qualities of Miss Fessey are many, but most students best remember her caring attitude and encouraging smile. Her dedication and skill as an administrator make Miss Fessey a vital force in the Middle School; as a result, her work is always evident in the Upper School as well.

Jane Berry

While an alumna, Miss Jane Berry is a new face on campus as College Counselor and Dean of Students in the Upper School. When she is not busily advising seniors concerning their choices of and applications to colleges, she also is available to counsel students in all grades. She sponsors the Student Council and is a co-sponsor of the Junior Class. As Dean of Students, she strives to further the development of the well-rounded education of the students so that they can meet any challenge they set for themselves.

Miss Berry is more than well-qualified to fulfill her responsibilities. After graduating from Harpeth Hall, she earned her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Vanderbilt University. Upon completing her formal education, she taught history at Franklin Road Academy, where she also assumed responsibility for the college counseling. Now applying her knowledge at her alma mater, Miss Berry has offered a number of contributions and new ideas; her work on a summer program, for which she will serve as director, is in the early stages of planning. This program may one day include a limited summer school in required courses at Harpeth Hall and could be expanded to offer more classes in the arts or other fields.

She is extremely enthusiastic about the many-faceted excellence of the school; like her peers in Souby Hall, Miss Berry is "more impressed than ever" with Harpeth Hall.

Polly Nichols

As Director of Development, Mrs. Polly Nichols heads the area of Harpeth Hall's financial advancement. In these times of economic uncertainty, nothing is more vital to the continued stability of an independent school than a broad-based support plan spearheaded by a well-established annual giving program. Mrs. Nichols has been in charge of annual giving for three of its four years as a Harpeth Hall program.

Development involves building not only financial support, but also Harpeth Hall friendships. Every effort is made by the Development Office, with the help of the other administrative staff, to create good relations with all members of the school and community by keeping them well-informed about the programs and activities of the school through personal contact, letters, and publications.

Harpeth Hall's constituent groups—trustees, parents, alumnae, faculty, and friends—with whom Mrs. Nichols works closely to obtain both unrestricted annual gifts and gifts from individuals and foundations, are vital to the school. Through the area of development, Mrs. Nichols assists in maintaining the high quality of education which Harpeth Hall offers to young women.

Susie Brown

Susie Brown does a variety of jobs for the Harpeth Hall community. As Director of Admissions and Alumnae, she has contact with all the students at some time. For the admissions process, she interviews all prospective students and arranges campus tours for them and their parents. She also organizes group tours for the girls from the feeder schools. In January, Mrs. Brown administers the entrance test and later participates in the selection of new students.

Her job as Alumnae Director involves keeping the alumnae aware of the school's and each others' activities. Compiling the news from each class to publish a magazine and newspaper once a year, Mrs. Brown also works with the development office on matters directly involving alumnae such as the fund-raising Phone-a-thon. In addition to the fall alumnae art exhibit every other year, she organizes reunion weekends for individual classes on an every-five-year basis.

A graduate and former English teacher at Harpeth Hall, Mrs. Brown received her B.A. degree from Sweet Briar College and her M.A.T. and M.A. in English from Vanderbilt University.

Anita Schmid

Mrs. Schmid, who administers the NEDT tests given to the freshmen, also directs the PSAT given to sophomores and juniors as well as the AP exams for juniors and seniors. While some students recognize her as "timekeeper" for these tests, most also know her as the freshman and sophomore counselor, offering advice to these young and sometimes confused underclassmen.

Although the weekend of September 25-27 was rainy, she and Mrs. Fuller, the co-sponsors of the freshman class, enjoyed the opportunity to become better acquainted with the freshmen during their retreat at Cedar Crest Camp.

Mrs. Schmid graduated from the University of Tennessee with a B.A. degree and from Peabody College at Vanderbilt University, where she received a master's degree in human development counseling.

Mrs. Schmid now operates the Winterim program, including the work-study program open to juniors and seniors. This year during Winterim, Mrs. Schmid has concentrated on advising the juniors and seniors interested in business, management, and merchandising, as well as individual fields of interest.

Mrs. Schmid has also helped organize the leadership conference in cooperation with Mrs. Joan Watterfield, Mrs. Sandra Davis, and Mrs. Ginger Justus.

Peg Herring and Lucile McLean

Besides sharing the responsibilities for the expense operations of Harpeth Hall with Miss Herring, Mrs. McLean is also in charge of other jobs which keep her very busy the entire year. A part of the Harpeth Hall community since its beginning in 1951, she has taught typing to Upper School students and has adeptly organized the book sales at the beginning of each school year. Mrs. McLean also maintains the financial records of the school in her office in Souby Hall.

As the business manager of Harpeth Hall, Miss Herring is responsible for building the school budget each year and handling the insurance programs for the school. Miss Herring plans ahead every year for major purchases and needs of Harpeth Hall such as the four recently acquired Apple II Plus computers, as well as the new audio system in the auditorium, a sound system made possible by contributions from several school organizations last year. One major expense of the school year is the upkeep of the campus, for which Miss Herring also is responsible. Aware of the many rules and regulations that exist, she also makes sure that the school complies with them.

Miss Berry ponders a student's college choices.

Student Council

During the year, the Student Council remains a vital force in all of the school activities, whether in initiating school spirit or in sponsoring school dances and service projects. Capable officers provided the leadership necessary to complete each project successfully.

The Council enlivened life at Harpeth Hall through activities such as singing Christmas carols during the holidays, dispensing candy for Valentine's Day and Easter, and sponsoring the exchange of valentines with M.B.A. Candy sales during lunch, doughnut sales before school, and hot chocolate added variety to students' diets.

This year the Student Council introduced several new ideas and functions, including the first Hawaiian Holiday Dance and the Bear Hunt, which benefited Children's Hospital.

Honor Council

The Honor Council at Harpeth Hall was formed to uphold the Honor System by hearing cases of violations and making recommendations to the Disciplinary Board. The Council is intended to be a deterrent to honor code violations rather than a system of punishment. The Council acts only as a recommending body; all matters are kept strictly confidential so that cases may be handled fairly. The members consider membership on the Council to be an honor, because members are elected by fellow classmates and take their jobs seriously.

This year, Mrs. Rutter sponsored the Council, and along with president Cey Gray and the other members, tried to inspire and maintain a sense of honor among the students throughout the year.

Middle School Council

The Middle School Student Council is the organization responsible for developing and managing operations concerning student affairs and conduct in the Middle School. Sponsored by Mrs. Mabry, the group plans and sponsors many activities and events during the year as well as discussing and acting upon disciplinary matters. A representative is elected from each homeroom to express the feelings of the student body.

This year, the Council has planned the annual Middle School talent show, the Grandmothers' Tea, and a Christmas party before the holidays. The group has also planned a "play day" in the spring. In addition to discussing suggestions from the students concerning the Eighth Grade Combo and another possible spring dance for the entire Middle School, the Council also held a skating party at M.B.A.

Cum Laude

Its founder, Dr. Abram W. Harris of the Tome School, envisioned Cum Laude as a society modeled on Phi Beta Kappa to encourage and recognize scholarship in secondary schools. To honor academic excellence, the Cum Laude Society may elect a maximum of the top twenty percent of the senior class, and a maximum of ten percent of the junior class. Faculty members are elected on the basis of their membership in Phi Beta Kappa, the highest academic collegiate honor society, or by their membership in another Cum Laude Society. Each year the Harpeth Hall chapter recognizes a member of the school community as the induction day speaker in assembly. This year Mrs. Gregory addressed the school on the importance of maintaining the standard of excellence, which should, she stated, remain a constant and paramount goal.

Quill and Scroll

As a national honor society, Quill and Scroll recognizes juniors and seniors who are editors or incoming editors of school publications and who have demonstrated outstanding interest and achievement in the field of journalism for at least two years. These high school journalists must be in the upper third of their class academically either on a cumulative basis or for the semester prior to induction. New members are initiated into this honor society every spring at All Club Picnic, and special awards are also presented to non-members who have contributed significantly to a school publication. The Harpeth Hall chapter of Quill and Scroll, founded by Mrs. Evans and the 1982 editors of MILESTONES, LOGOS II, and HALLMARKS, received its charter last year.

Société Honoraire de Français

The Société Honoraire de Français is a national high school honor society honoring outstanding French scholarship. The Harpeth Hall chapter, granted by the American Association of Teachers of French in 1982, is sponsored by Mrs. Libby Evans. The society honors those students who have maintained an A- average in high school French for at least two years and who have shown interest as well as skill in French.

Most successful authors spend years working on one of their publications; however, the group of girls on the MILESTONES staff must limit its efforts to only nine short months. To capture the personalities and the events of an entire school year and to produce them in an informative yet interesting documentary require an enormous amount of diligence and determination. Cooperation, time, energy, and originality are essential factors in the creation of a yearbook. Simply recounting the facts of the past year is not sufficient for the meticulous MILESTONES editors and staff. The staff strives to provide its readers with a glimpse of the inner personality of Harpeth Hall. Designing layouts, writing copy, and cropping pictures are only a few of the many responsibilities of each staff member. The editors, staff, and sponsor combine their various talents each year in order to produce a concrete illustration of the unique spirit of Harpeth Hall.

Under sponsors Dr. Marney and Dr. Gower and editor Jessica Ward, LOGOS endeavored to capture the events of the school year as well as the essence of Harpeth Hall.

The paper covered events, athletics, academics, and the arts as well as questions within the school concerning such matters as uniforms and the curriculum. Having covered the plays, Winterim, and Student Council activities, LOGOS also planned in April Fools' Day issue. While treating many of the usual events, the staff decided to discuss even more important issues to keep abreast of the changing views of the school. The paper also strongly encouraged letters to the editor to present different viewpoints concerning issues at Harpeth Hall. The members of the writing staff and the photography staff form two groups: those who serve as permanent members and those who only work occasionally. In order to be a permanent member, a girl must contribute to three of the six issues.

Penstaff

Penstaff, the literary organization sponsored by the English department, provides an outlet for the creative genius of members of the Harpeth Hall community. Exemplary achievement in the areas of prose, poetry, and art are manifested annually in the club's publication entitled HALLMARKS. The submission to HALLMARKS of three original works by students, faculty members, and alumnae is encouraged by Penstaff members in order to reveal additional talent. These three entries are judged by the organization on the basis of quality and originality, and if all three are approved, the entrant is awarded membership.

In addition to encouraging the revival of interest in creative writing, the girls in Penstaff are also concerned with their own personal growth as well as that of other members in the field of literary composition. Weekly critique of others' work enables each student to sharpen her skills as an author.

Although often considered to be an elite group, the Penstaff club is not concerned only with itself. The members are deeply interested in the augmentation of interest in the field of creative writing throughout the community of Harpeth Hall.

Mu Alpha Theta

Mu Alpha Theta is the honorary organization for gifted high school students. The role of this club at Harpeth Hall is to recognize those girls who have earned a B average or better for three years in math.

The society encourages its members to compete in the State Mathematics Convention as well as to enter various monthly contests with other high school students throughout the Nashville area. The members of Mu Alpha Theta are strengthening their knowledge of the basic arithmetic principles as well as learning new skills through their participation in these competitions.

Playmakers

The Playmakers are the group of girls in the Harpeth Hall community who are dedicated to drama and the many aspects of theatrical production. Each year, the organization endeavors to instruct students in all fields of theatrics from acting to set construction. Practical experience is an integral part of the Playmakers' education; therefore, the club presents two major productions during the school year.

In addition to the enjoyment of new friendships and the thrill of applause, the goal of each Playmaker is to acquire the one hundred hours of dramatic specialization necessary for membership in the nationally recognized Thespian Society. Membership in this distinguished theatrical guild is considered to be a tremendous honor earned by many Harpeth Hall students through hard work in the theater. The Playmakers are not only concerned with their own individual achievement; they also encourage their classmates to become involved in the various theatrical productions throughout the school year.

Key Club

The Key Club is an organization that provides service opportunities for Harpeth Hall in the Nashville community. To raise money for the American Cancer Society and the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation, the club sold drinks at MY FAIR LADY and ROMEO AND JULIET. In October, the group held a Halloween party for children at Donner Belmont Day Care Center. As a group, members attended the Greek Orthodox Church to learn about different religions. For Key Club Week, in November, the Club decorated Little Harpeth, made a cake for the Upper School, and put flowers in the teachers' lounge. December was an especially busy month, bringing Christmas and the opportunity to sing carols at General Hospital. The girls later helped their parent club, Kiwanis, in the Paper Sale for Buddies of Nashville. They also managed to paint the Little Gym. For Valentine's Day, students could send carnations to M.B.A. and thus donate money to the American Cancer Society. Later that month, the girls went bowling for Big Buddies; and in March, the Tennis Tournament was held.

Athletic Association

Harpeth Hall's Athletic Association recognizes students who have participated in varsity and intramural sports and have accumulated fifty athletic points through their positions as team or squad members. Once a year, Athletic Association holds an assembly to award varsity letters to the girls who held starting positions in the various varsity sports. Throughout the year, the Association holds fund-raising events, including the sale of school sweat-shirts, socks, jackets, and concessions during home games. This year's major Athletic Association project was to sponsor a contest, won by Colleen Johnson, for the best design of a Harpeth Hall Honeybear to be made as a banner and hung in Morrison Gym.

The Athletic Association strives to maintain school spirit and support all athletic organizations of the school as well as to honor the individual achievements of Harpeth Hall's many athletes.

Varsity Cheerleaders

This year's varsity cheerleading squad consists of nine highly spirited girls from the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. Along with Mrs. Painter as the new sponsor, the cheerleaders have learned innovative and advanced routines through extensive practice and hard work. Their pep rallies and hall decorations encourage student support and spirit at athletic events.

Freshman Cheerleaders

The freshman cheerleaders are a diverse and talented group of girls; incoming freshmen join veteran Middle Schoolers to lead their class in supporting its athletic teams. Before and during the basketball season, the squad practices its routines; and its pep rallies raise class spirit. The girls have put forth a team effort and have united the class with their enthusiasm and spirit.

French Club

According to president Caroline Trost, the French Club sets as its purpose to promote interest in French culture and the French language. With the help of Mr. Paul Tuzeneu, this year the club sponsored pen pals from France and a French dinner with attendance limited to French Club members only. In addition to setting up a French café for A.F.S. Celebrations, the club sponsored French bake sales and Duds Days.

Junior Classical League

In addition to participating in the State Convention at Memphis in the spring, the Junior Classical League also took part in the National Convention held in August. After earning third place in the Certamen at Franklin Road Academy, members placed exceptionally well in the National Latin Exams. Furthermore, the J.C.L. participated in A.F.S. Celebrations and planned for an Italian Feast in the spring.

Spanish Club

El Club de Español is a language club for "aficionadas" of Mexican culture, food, and fun. In addition to funding one student's trip to Mexico by having bake sales and a lunchtime taco bar, the club participates in the National Foreign Language Week. Club members enjoyed a Spanish dinner during the academic year and sponsored a room entitled "Christmas Eve in Mexico" for A.F.S. Celebrations.

American Field Service

The American Field Service, an international organization, allows students to live overseas to learn about other cultures. This year's A.F.S. student from South Africa, Jackie Sanderson, lives with senior Ellen Lee and her family. Sponsored by Mrs. Dennis, the club organizes an A.F.S. Weekend in which all A.F.S. students in Tennessee visit Harpeth Hall. In addition to its largest fundraising project, Celebrations, which offers food, costumes, dancing, and music from numerous foreign countries, the club also sponsors a Spring International Dessert Fest.

Cross Country

Diligence, fortitude, and talent enabled the cross-country team to complete a successful season again this year. Running four to seven miles to and from Percy Warner Park every day regardless of weather conditions soon became routine to this group of dedicated athletes. The girls' rigorous training proved to be a primary factor in the overall success of the season. Owing to the exemplary leadership of seniors Elizabeth Bogle, Ginger Sullivan, and Suzanne Watts, the team pulled together to win an impressive number of dual meets as well as several out-of-town invitational competitions. The Honeybears advanced to capture N.I.L. and regional titles, and they demonstrated a strong, concerted effort in the State meet. The superior coaching ability of Mrs. Susan Russ, an essential constituent of the team's many victories, won recognition when she was named N.I.L. Coach of the Year for 1982. The talent exhibited by the numerous underclassmen on the cross-country team seems to promise another successful season for Harpeth Hall in 1983.

Volleyball

The varsity volleyball team finished a very successful season with a 21-3 record. With new coach Georgianne Moran, the team began its season in early August. Beating rivals Hillsboro, Greenbrier, McGavock, and FRA as well as winning the Ryan Volleyball Classic Tournament highlighted the season. As the Honeybears reached the semi-finals of the District Tournament, Gayle Smith and Kim Bueno were named to the District All-Tournament Team and the entire starting line-up was named in the All-NIL pick.

The freshman volleyball team also finished a successful season, capturing the city title under the direction of coach Pat Moran.

In HVAC competition, the Middle School volleyball team added to the success of Harpeth Hall's volleyball program as it won first place honors in the HVAC tournament.

Soccer

Under the direction of Mrs. Dugan Davis, the Harpeth Hall Varsity Soccer Team ended the season with six wins and six losses. As the team became varsity this year, daily practices and scrimmages drilled and improved the players' skills. Furthermore, the team benefited from the suggestions and constructive criticism of Dr. Henry Pendergrass, who attended both games and practices.

This year Mrs. Davis also coached the Middle School Soccer Team as well as the varsity team. They finished their successful season by winning first place in the HVAC tournament. The Honeycubs beat archrival Ensworth to earn the championship.

Golf

Coached by Miss Reed, this year's varsity golf team consisted of two returning players, senior Debbie Sheffield and junior Lil Bradford. The third member of the team was incoming freshman Sarah Darragh.

Working on their own time to improve their games, these girls prepared for the regional tournament, held May 9 at Harpeth Hills. Another challenge was the state tournament, held May 11 at Henry Horton State Park. The team participated in both individual and team competition in the TSSAA region, shooting for the lowest combined score. The players hoped to qualify as a team or individually for competition in the state tournament.

Basketball

Led by seniors Gayle Smith and Ann-Riley Caldwell, the basketball team finished the year with an 18-11 record. Entering the season under coach Tom Young, all signs pointed to an exceptional season for the veteran club because along with two seniors, there were five experienced juniors on the squad. An overtime win against Overton highlighted the regular season. In the district semi-finals, the Honeybears defeated Brentwood High School in four overtimes and emerged in the runner-up position.

The freshman team, under Coach Mike Goodwin, concluded its successful season with a 9-8 record.

The Middle School team also experienced a winning record this year, accumulating eight wins and two losses to Brentwood Academy. In the tournaments, however, the Honeycubs defeated Brentwood Academy in the finals.

Tennis

This year the Varsity Tennis Team, coached by Mrs. Pat Moran, once again proved its strength and talent. Junior Elizabeth Arnold, senior Trisha Frist, and sophomore Diana Cherry led the team to an undefeated season in the district competition. Returning to the Rotary Tournament in Chattanooga, the team finished second as Jenny Amacher won her division and Diana Cherry and Ellen Sergent were runners-up in their divisions.

This year, Harpeth Hall hosted the first annual Patty Chadwell Tournament in honor of Miss Patty, a former Harpeth Hall varsity tennis coach. Competitors in this tournament included GPS, Father Ryan, Knoxville-Webb, Murfreesboro Oakland, Lebanon, and Hickson High School, as well as Harpeth Hall.

The Middle School team, coached by Miss Patty, also finished a very successful season. Buffy Baker helped to lead the team to victory over all schools in the H.V.A.C. except Ensworth.

Track

The Varsity Track Team, coached by Mrs. Susan Russ, is a group of dedicated athletes who may be found participating in strenuous workouts at Overton or Brentwood. The season begins with dual meets against a team such as Hillsboro, Hillwood, or Brentwood Academy. These meets serve as practices for larger meets in which the girls participate later, including the Tornado Track Classic at McCallie, the Optimist Relays, and the Banner Relays. The climax of the season is the regional and the state finals.

The Middle School Track Team was extremely successful this year, winning all of their meets and capturing the HVAC title. Becky Watson set a new shot put record of 34 feet, and the team set another record in the 1600 meter relay. In the HVAC finals the team placed first in seven events.

Softball

The Upper School softball team consisted of nineteen members this year. Because of a late start and also bad weather, the softball team participated strictly on an intramural basis. The team, made up mostly of underclassmen, practiced under Mr. Tom Young and Mr. Mike Goodwin. The coaches expressed a hope to build a stronger program for the future.

The Middle School softball team consisted of sixteen members, mostly seventh graders, and was coached by Mrs. Duvier and Mrs. Burr. The girls earned a championship, decided in a game against Northside.

The sixth grade team, coached by Mr. Clyde Lee, included fifteen members and played ten man ball. The sixth grade had to limit its competition to five schools, since most schools have only intramural softball at the sixth grade level.

Events

Leadership Conference

The third annual Leadership Conference took place again at Land Between the Lakes in Kentucky the weekend of August 27, 28, and 29. Mrs. Anita Schmid, Mrs. Joan Warterfield, Mrs. Sandra Davis, and Mrs. Ginger Justus organized and planned this year's conference, during which students and faculty kept busy by getting to know each other, learning to speak in public, and learning to communicate effectively both verbally and non-verbally.

The program included projects such as building straw towers to test effectiveness of group work, participating in a "discussion bowl," and making up and delivering announcements or awards.

Between planned activities, there was time for swimming, canoeing, and walking in the woods.

Freshmen and other students who had not been in many leadership roles before learned basics such as parliamentary procedure and student expectations for those in leadership positions. For those girls already familiar with leadership, some parts of the program served as "refresher courses," but everyone learned something new about herself and her capabilities.

MY FAIR LADY

This year, for the first time, the Harpeth Hall drama department rehearsed a musical during the summer. The school presented the play MY FAIR LADY on September 9-12 in order to raise funds for the Men's Club and the Mothers' Auxiliary. Unlike most other Harpeth Hall productions, parents, teachers, and students alike participated and became acquainted with one another.

The cast included Ray Berry in the lead role of Eliza Doolittle, Geoffrey Berry as Henry Higgins, and Houston Sarratt as Freddy Eynsford-Hill. Directed by Mrs. Sandra Davis, the show contained more cast members than any previous Harpeth Hall performance. Based on a musical by Lerner and Lowe, the play included many familiar tunes such as "I Could Have Danced All Night" and "Wouldn't It Be Lovely," both sung by Ray Berry. The production presented the story of the efforts of Professor Henry Higgins, a famous English linguist, to transform a common Cockney street vendor into a proper lady simply by changing her accent. Along with fellow linguist Colonel Pickering, who dares him to accept such a challenge, Higgins works hard to "educate" Liza.

Several cast members stated that in addition to the professional quality of the production, the friendships made between students and adults highlighted their work together.

Square Dance

Harpeth Hall hosted the third annual MBA/Harpeth Hall Square Dance in Bullard Gym on Saturday, October 16. The Square Dance is one of several projects planned by the Student Councils of both schools, but this was the first time the dance was held at Harpeth Hall instead of MBA.

Bullard Gym was decorated with streamers and bales of hay; and students dressed in overalls, straw hats, and bandanas do-si-doed to the calls of Barry Vestral, a professional square dance caller.

Sarah Nichols, the 1982-83 Secretary-Treasurer of the Student Council, commented, "The Square Dance is one of the more popular activities we plan because no one needs a date. It's a chance just to go and have fun with friends. Also, the Square Dance is one of the few events which is open to both Upper and Middle Schools."

Fall Dance

One of the major events during the fall semester each year is the fall combo sponsored by the Student Council. This year the student body participated in the choice of a theme for the dance by submitting ideas to the Council, resulting in the theme of "Midnight Magic." Red, white and black streamers and helium balloons were used as decoration and a backdrop of the same colors and giant "hand" chairs added to the magical atmosphere. The mood was set for Saturday, November 6, when students and their dates danced to the music of the band Hot Tomata from eight o'clock until midnight. Cold soft drinks were provided by the Student Council and food was contributed by members of the student body. All who attended agreed that the combo had provided a magical evening of fun and entertainment.

Club Challenges

The 1982-83 school year has been the second year that Harpeth Hall has featured only two clubs, formed from the original four. No longer an experimental change, the combined clubs have been accepted by the student body and well-organized by the sponsors and club captains. The challenge co-captains have expressed the opinion that having only two clubs incites more enthusiasm, unity, and participation than did four clubs.

Some of the challenges this year have been featured previously, but many were original. This fall, the Ar-Tries challenged and beat the An-Eccos at a Big Wheel Relay and a "Food Challenge," which included passing grapefruit from chin to chin, shaving helium balloons, and eating Goo-Goo candy bars. An-Ecco retaliated in a challenge to a game of charades, seen in the photograph below. During the second semester, An-Eccos won by a close margin at the Club Bowl. Other challenges were an obstacle course race and a kickball game.

Jessica Ward, co-captain with Alison Russell of the An-Ecco Club, admits that she originally preferred the four clubs, but having worked closely with the two-club organization, she now agrees the new system is effective. "This year the challenges have really done their job, which was to feed into the intramurals."

The Big Wheel race tests the skill of even the most coordinated sophomores.

Club Recognition

The Athletic Association recognizes participants in intramurals.

Club letters are awarded in a special assembly.

Fall Assemblies

Whether it was a chance to hear announcements or to enjoy the Glee Club's Christmas program, assemblies were a meaningful part of each day. Early in the fall, Mr. Wood invited such speakers as Bunny Blackman, who spoke of her past alcoholism; Germann Edey, who described his voyage to China; and Amy Wadlington, who recounted her adventures on a cross-country biking trip. To honor the Class of 1983, the Senior Capping ceremony took place during Senior Recognition Week. A film about skiing was shown to help promote the Outing Club's ski trip; and later in the fall, the Glee Club's annual Christmas Presentation was given, highlighted by Christmas carols old and new and a visit from Old Saint Nick himself.

Alabama Shakespeare Festival: ROMEO AND JULIET

On September 30, in a joint project of Harpeth Hall and M.B.A., Harpeth Hall hosted the Alabama Shakespeare Festival presented by the Alabama Theater Company. This year the touring company toured eight states, visiting twenty-nine cities and performing before over forty thousand people. During its time at Harpeth Hall, the company held several performances, inviting students and teachers from Franklin Road Academy, Webb School, and B.G.A. to participate in the festival.

The company presented the well-known ROMEO AND JULIET, in which two young "star-crossed lovers" attempt to surmount many obstacles in order to be united. Romeo and Juliet must meet secretly because of the enmity between their families, who constantly engage in streetfighting and duels. Juliet's nurse helps arrange rendez-vous between the lovers and also provides comic relief. Students witnessed many exciting combat scenes between the members of the two families. The climax of the play proves tragic, as Romeo and Juliet are reunited only in death.

Grandmothers' Tea

The Harpeth Hall Middle School held its annual Grandmothers' Tea this fall before Thanksgiving. The tea, whose program and refreshments are planned by the Middle School Council, is in honor of grandmothers and special older friends of Middle School girls. This year, Harpeth Hall's Sheridan Gallery was a full house as four hundred faculty members, students, grandmothers, and friends enjoyed both the musical entertainment by the seventh grade chorus and various refreshments such as tea, cookies, and sandwiches. Mrs. Ray Berry directed the chorus in the songs "Grandma's Featherbed" and "Getting to Know You" from the musical THE KING AND I. Students introduced their grandmothers to their teachers, talked to their friends, or posed for numerous photos before traditional festivities drew to a close for another year.

The tea is an opportunity to see old friends and to make new ones.

AFS Celebrations

The many laborious hours of American Field Service president Penelope Logan, AFS vice-president Jennifer Draper, and the other members of AFS culminated in the impressive evening of Celebrations of Many Lands. AFS Celebrations, held this year on Thursday evening, November 11, is an annual project designed to introduce the students to the numerous AFS programs. The club members not only display elaborate foreign costumes but also provide copious samples of culinary fare from each country. Some of the countries represented included Greece, France, Italy, England, South Africa, Mexico, and Fiji Islands.

Another one of the AFS club's yearly projects is the Dessert Fest, held this year on Friday evening, April 15. This project generally proves appealing to everyone's palates, as many foreign desserts are on display for tasting.

In the Spring, AFS weekend featured the visit of regional AFS students to Harpeth Hall classes and a weekend homestay with Harpeth Hall families.

SOUTH PACIFIC

November 19, 20, 21 were "Some Enchanted Evenings" at Davis Auditorium as the Harpeth Hall Playmakers along with actors from F.R.A. and M.B.A. performed the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical SOUTH PACIFIC. Harpeth Hall seniors Jenny Bond as Ensign Nellie Forbush, Lattie Brown as Bloody Mary, and Sarah Nichols as Ensign Dinah Murphy joined F.R.A.'s Hal Cato playing Emile de Becque, J.B. Goessman as Lieutenant Cable, and M.B.A.'s Wade Wilkinson as Luther Billis. The play recounts the story of an American nurse, Nellie Forbush, who comes to the South Pacific islands in the middle of World War II and falls in love with the French planter, Emile de Becque. At the same time, Lieutenant Cable falls in love with the Tonkinese girl Liat played by freshman Debbie Good. Unfortunately, Lieutenant Cable is killed at the end of the play; however, Emile de Becque returns home much to the delight of Nellie Forbush and Emile's two Polynesian children. The actors, under the skilled direction of Mrs. Sandra Davis and Mrs. Ray Berry, together with the various crews led by Jim Bradfield, produced a professional performance full of romance and laughter.

Winterim

Winterim for juniors and seniors at Harpeth Hall offers many alternatives to traditional classroom learning experiences, and this year was no exception. During the month of January, all juniors and seniors leave campus to participate in either travel opportunities or work-study programs. This year's travel programs included a trip to Germany, Austria, and Switzerland, another to Italy, as well as one to New York. January offered those students who selected work-study programs a variety of interesting choices. For example, girls could learn first-hand about law-making and government in Washington from Congressman Bill Boner. Many girls participated in other work-study programs such as medicine and research, advertising, computer science, banking, and historic preservation.

Winterim

The On-Campus Winterim Program at Harpeth Hall this year proved to be a month filled with both fun and educational experiences. Freshmen and sophomores participated in activities ranging from "Poise" or "Jazzercise" to "Historic Preservation" and "Glimpse of Life in France." A new course, "the Cambridge Study Skills," offered students an opportunity to sharpen their study habits. After three weeks of exciting and varied types of courses, an innovation entitled "Common Experience Week" began at Harpeth Hall. Each day, speakers from various fields presented lectures and discussions on different topics such as Women's Issues, Decision Making and Social Concerns, a Fine Arts Day, and The Holocaust. A poll of students revealed their feelings that Winterim had been a unique and worthwhile month.

THE VELVETEEN RABBIT

This year in March, the Middle School sponsored a successful musical production of THE VELVETEEN RABBIT under the dramatic direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams and Mr. Bill Lauderdale, as well as the musical direction of Mrs. Ray Berry. The leading roles of the rabbit, the boy, the Skin Horse, and Nana were played by Robyn Growdon, Tiffy Baker, Ann Braun, and Tay Martin. Pianist Mrs. John Hagewood accompanied the cast.

THE VELVETEEN RABBIT recounts the story of a toy rabbit who becomes real through the love of the boy who owns him. The play was dedicated to the members of this year's senior class, who had also produced the play as Middle Schoolers.

The Rabbit learns the "Funny Bunny Rag."

Finally the rabbit's dream comes true, he becomes real.

The rabbit is introduced to all the other toys through song and dance.

The little boy takes his beloved rabbit home.

George Washington's Birthday

As in years past, Harpeth Hall continued the Ward-Belmont tradition of celebrating George Washington's birthday. For the second time, the seventh grade executed marching drills, nautical dances, and the minuet in honor of our first president. Under the direction of Mrs. Merrie Clark, the seventh graders chose their own roles and practiced during Interim and February to perfect their performance. Because this year's class of eighty members was considerably larger than last year's class, many costumes had to be found and altered. After their costumes had been found, the sailors learned their hornpipe from Mrs. Leslie Mullins while Mrs. Susan Russ taught the soldiers complicated marching drills. Mrs. Ray Berry taught the class several patriotic songs to commemorate President Washington's military victories. The President and the First Lady were portrayed by Lesley Dale and Anne Smith, two eighth graders elected by the seventh grade class.

Hawaiian Holiday

On February 19, an innovative and exciting event took place at Harpeth Hall—the first spring dance to be sponsored by the Student Council. The theme of the dance was “Hawaiian Holiday” with the “Bermuda Shorts” band playing many of the students’ favorite songs. The entrance to Bullard Gym was decorated with lanterns leading the way to the “tropical islands.” Upon entering, students received leis, and the palm trees, posters, and floats added a touch of Hawaiian flavor to the scene. The backdrop consisted of bamboo walls, colorful beach balls, umbrellas, beach chairs, and towels, all contributing to the ambience of this paradise. As Sarah Nichols, secretary-treasurer of the Student Council remarked, this dance really “helped kick off spring break.”

Spring Assemblies

Students enjoyed a wide variety of assemblies this spring. Once again this year, the Student Council sponsored Career Week. One assembly featured alumna Suzi Ragsdale, who performed a selection of popular songs. In late March the Student Council held elections for the upcoming year, and in April the Cum Laude Society initiated new members following a meaningful speech by Mrs. Gregory. At a very special April assembly, the Harpeth Hall Men's Club honored Miss Reed and Miss Mountfort for their contributions to the school. Composition Red and Green, the joint arts week with M.B.A., began in April with a teaser assembly for the spring play, Agatha Christie's TEN LITTLE INDIANS. An integral part of every day, assembly time provided students with entertainment, cultural enrichment, and a time to relax this spring.

Composition Red and Green

This year, Harpeth Hall and Montgomery Bell Academy's arts festival, "Composition Red and Green," began with the "Entertainment Showcase," held on Friday, April 8. On Saturday, the movie CASABLANCA was presented, and the following weekend brought many A.F.S. students staying in Tennessee to Harpeth Hall. The A.F.S. "Dessert Fest," held on Friday, April 15, offered desserts and cultural exhibits from foreign countries. The final weekend of "Composition Red and Green" commenced with an art opening at Harpeth Hall on Friday, April 22, followed by the presentation of Agatha Christie's mystery TEN LITTLE INDIANS, directed by Mrs. Sandra Davis. Finally, on Sunday, the Harpeth Hall—Montgomery Bell Academy joint chorus presented music in M.B.A.'s Wallace Hall, directed by Mrs. Ray Berry and accompanied by Mrs. Marian Ross. After the choral performance, the M.B.A. art reception took place, featuring refreshments and a variety of artwork exhibited by students.

Composition Red and Green

The art opening at M.B.A. offered students of both schools a chance to exhibit their art.

The joint choral presentation at M.B.A. provided students and their parents a taste of the musical talent of the Glee Clubs.

TEN LITTLE INDIANS

On April 22 and 23, Harpeth Hall's Auditorium was filled with little Indians, TEN LITTLE INDIANS to be exact, as the Harpeth Hall Playmakers, under the direction of Mrs. Sandra Davis, performed Agatha Christie's mystery for the spring play. The story begins when Mr. and Mrs. Owen invite ten guests to their house on Indian Island. After the guests arrive, a taped voice accuses each guest of being a murderer. As the guests begin to die one by one, one of a group of ten small Indian figurines on the mantelpiece falls and breaks.

The cast included Harpeth Hall seniors Anne Shoulders, Lattie Brown, Jenny Bond, Laura Watson, and Jennifer Draper as well as M.B.A. students. The guidance of Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Ray Berry, and Mr. Jim Bradfield, as well as the joint effort between the cast and the crew, combined to produce this enjoyable spring theatrical event.

The guests on the island are stunned by the first murder.

Panic sets in as Dr. Armstrong tries to revive the unconscious Mrs. Rogers.

Junior-Senior Prom

On May 7, the Junior Class, with the theme "Here's Looking at You" from the movie Casablanca, made this year's Junior-Senior Prom spectacular and impressed not only the seniors but the rest of the Upper School and the faculty as well. The dance lasted from 8:00 until 12:00 in Morrison Gym, which was transformed into a presentation aisle at 10:00 as the seniors, the Junior Class officers, and their dates were honored and serenaded by Mr. Wood's piano playing. The 1983 Prom Queen was Morre Morford, and her court included Lattie Brown, Kate Zeitler, Sheila Morris, and Kris Woosley. The band, "Between the Two," provided many current hit songs which appealed to freshman and seniors alike. The hard work by the Junior Class certainly paid off, for everyone claimed this was the best Prom ever.

The crowd finds the beat with "Between the Two."

Eighth Grade Combo

As in years past, the Eighth Grade Combo provided the Eighth Grade Class with a fun-filled and exciting evening. On March 26, from 8:00 until 11:30, the girls and their dates danced to the popular music of "The White Animals." Flashing electric lights and a backdrop spelling out "Welcome to the Tropics!" added to the extensively decorated cafeteria.

The teachers and parents who chaperoned the event noticed the enthusiasm of this year's class. Everyone who came danced, and, under the leadership of Class Activity Coordinator Grace Russell and Mrs. Ward, the class sponsor, the class cleaned the cafeteria the day after the dance with almost equal enthusiasm. From the planning and preparation for the dance itself to the clean-up, the Eighth Grade Class worked to make its combo a success.

The Eighth Grade girls had fun, even without their dates!

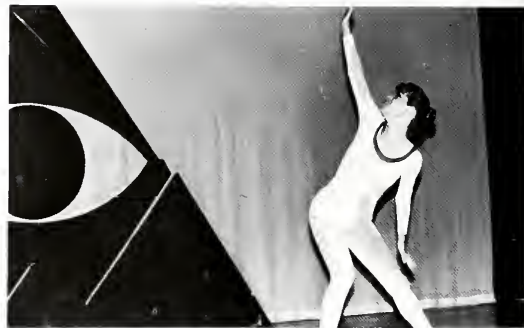

The tropical backdrop provided an exciting format for pictures.

Dance Concert

On May 13 and 14 at 8:00 p.m. and May 15 at 3:00 p.m. the Harpeth Hall Dance Clubs presented their annual spring dance concert. "Pep Rally," the opening tap piece, featured the more experienced tap dancers; and Michael Starr, MBA freshman, was a lively dancer reminiscent of the 50's era. "Mirrors of the Mind," an abstract modern piece conceived by Peter Goodwin, portrayed various emotions with dance movements. The sets and costumes were designed by Kathryn Lindsey.

The first act also included "Daydreams," presented by the Ballet Club, "Memory," a song from the Broadway hit "Cats" and danced by Anna Amacher and Caroline Trost, and "Pas de Blues," a piece presented by eight of the more experienced jazz dancers. The second act included four more pieces: "Try Again," a comic ballet piece; "Suite Syncopation," a tap piece; "Awakening," the moving solo by Anne Buttrely; and a fast moving jazz piece appropriately titled, "Movin'."

Senior Alison Russell dances in "Mirrors of the Mind."

Seniors Anna Amacher and Caroline Trost perform the duet "Memory."

Father-Daughter Banquet

The third annual Father-Daughter Banquet, which was held at 6:30 on May 5 at the Nashville Hyatt Regency, attracted over five hundred people. Participants included girls in grades six through twelve, incoming students, and fathers, grandfathers, uncles and friends.

This year, the guests enjoyed dinner and student entertainment followed by guest speaker Mr. Clyde Lee, father of sixth grader Amy Lee. The last event of the evening was the announcement of the new Men's Club officers. The Father-Daughter Banquet presented an opportunity to strengthen the father-daughter bond and to enjoy a fun-filled evening.

National Merit

The National Merit Foundation recognizes outstanding scholarship by high school students on the basis of junior PSAT scores. Only the top half of one percent of the thousands who take this exam are named semifinalists. Most of these select students go on to be named as finalists in the competition. Forty percent of the finalists are honored as scholars and receive awards of one thousand dollars. This year Harpeth Hall had thirteen semifinalists and seventeen commendees. Outstanding senior Juile Cox was also named a President's Scholar and will attend Stanford University next year.

All-Club Picnic

This year, All-Club Picnic was held in Morrison Gymnasium; awards were presented and speeches were given. The Mathes-Charney Art Award went to Beth McKeand; the Honor Dancer Award went to Anne Buttrey. The Class Spirit Awards were presented to Nancy Brown, Mandy Haynes, Risa Klein, and Heather Johnson. Gigi Smith received the Ar-Tri Club Spirit Award; Jessica Ward received the An-Ecco Club Spirit Award. The Lady of the Hall and her Court were announced. The Student Council summarized the year's activities, and then the officers presented diaries of 1983 to the new officers.

Jackie Sanderson, this year's A.F.S. student, recounted her year with Harpeth Hall. After Quill and Scroll, MILESTONES, and the Société Honoraire de Français announced their new members, Gina Goff read the dedication of the 1983 MILESTONES to Mrs. Justus. The picnic closed with the Alma Mater.

Senior Banquet

The Senior Banquet offered a last opportunity for the faculty and Class of 1983 to enjoy their special relationship before graduation. The catered dinner was held outdoors at the home of alumna Mrs. Barbara Massey Clark. Dixie Pepper and Martha P'Pool, alias the Parton sisters, honored each senior with a superlative and predicted each girl's future. Senior Student Council members offered a skit, followed by the presentation of the senior gift to the school. Afterwards, Mrs. Oxley and Mrs. Rutter, class sponsors, each received a blue and yellow shirt and special gifts. Class President Mary Matter surprised her classmates with a scrapbook containing memorabilia from every activity in which seniors had participated. The evening came to a close as the girls sang their class songs and the alma mater.

Step Singing

While campus was dampened, spirits were not as the Class of 1983 passed on their responsibilities to the Class of 1984. The presentation of Lady of the Hall, Sarah Nichols, and her Court immediately preceded the Step Singing festivities. Following the processional of the Juniors and Seniors, the Junior Class officers formed the Daisy Chain Tribute to the Class of 1983. The Seniors then presented their junior song, "As Long as There Is Laughter," by Gene Cotton, and their gift to the school, a video recorder. Mary Matter, president of the Class of 1983, transferred the Senior Diary to Tish Tully, rising class president. The Juniors then recited the Senior Pledge and sang their song, "Our Time Is Short." Before dismissal, the Seniors sang their class song, "Just to Remember," by Anne Buttrey, and everyone joined in the Alma Mater.

Lady of the Hall

As a result of her responsibility, creativity, enthusiasm, and dedication which represent the ideals of the school, Sarah Nichols was given the title of Lady of the Hall. She has been actively involved throughout her seven years at Harpeth Hall.

After serving on the Student Council as a representative in her junior year, Sarah was elected as the Secretary-Treasurer in her senior year. Her many accomplishments include the Myra Jackson Blair Scholarship for two years, a Forensics Award, and the National Thespian Award in her freshman year. She also placed fifth in the state in the National French Exam and seventh in the region in her freshman year. Sarah was also active in LOGOS II, serving as the Exchange Editor her freshman year, as the Copy Editor her sophomore year, and as the Features and News Editor her junior year. Her participation in drama involved that of Harpeth Hall as well as that outside the school community. Because of her various achievements and her special qualities, Sarah truly represents the ideals of Harpeth Hall.

Katie Wray Award Julie Cox

The Katie Wray Award is given each year to the Senior who has the highest four year grade average. Julie Cox, this year's recipient, has maintained this high average with ease while participating in many other school activities. Her academic excellence has been acknowledged before when she was inducted during her Junior year into the three academic honorary societies of Harpeth Hall: Cum Laude, Mu Alpha Theta, and Société Honoraire de Français. She is also a National Merit Scholar and a Presidential Scholar. Julie wrote for LOGOS II and was Sports Editor her junior year. For her work on the newspaper she was inducted into Quill and Scroll, a national honorary society for publications. She was also a member of Penstaff, Playmakers, and Thespians her sophomore through senior years.

Sports are an integral part of Julie's life. She played on the Freshman Basketball team and ran track and cross country her junior and senior years. During her sophomore year she was athletic manager for the Eccowasins and served as Intramural Co-Captain for the An-Eccos her junior year.

Julie was on the Honor Council for two years and the Presidents' Council and Student Council her freshman year, when she was also class president. This year, she served as Vice-President of the Student Council.

Middle School Honor Day

On May 27, fifty-one eighth grade students participated in the Middle School Honor Day. Paige Ferragina, sixth grader, gave the invocation followed by the Seventh Grade Chorus singing two selections directed by Mrs. Ray Berry. Mr. Robert Dale gave the address; Miss Polly Fessey then presented the Club Bowl Award to the Aristons, the Sports Trophy to the Eccowasins, and the Citizenship Cup to the Angkors. The Class Spirit Awards were presented to Sara Ruccio, Tiffy Baker, and Mimi Baker. Regina Allen received the Polly Fessey Award for her contributions to her class and school through leadership and loyalty. Jennifer Betts received the Daugh W. Smith Award for excellence in English and the Junior Classical League Award for the highest average in Latin. Mr. David E. Wood presented the certificates to the graduates. The Alma Mater and the benediction concluded the ceremony.

The Middle School will miss the creative talents of Mrs. Williams.

Graduation

Like all other years, this one came to an end with the graduation of the Senior Class. Mrs. Martha C. Gregory's commencement address gave the graduates as well as the audience advice for the many experiences in life. Chosen by her fellow classmates, Cey Gray, recipient of a Morehead Scholarship to the University of North Carolina, described the self-motivation of the Senior Class inspired by their motto, "Dare to dream; dare to achieve."

After two choral presentations by the Glee Club and the two commencement addresses, Mr. Wood recognized those who received awards for excellence in various fields. The students recognized included Julie Cox, Katie Wray Award and Presidential Scholar; Heather Johnson, Second Honors and a CAMWS Scholarship in Latin; and Suzanne Watts for Third Honors. Mrs. Jeanne Zerfoss was then recognized for her outstanding loyalty and service to Harpeth Hall with the Dede Bullard Wallace Award. Finally, Mr. Wood conferred diplomas to the Class of 1983.

After the singing of the Senior Class Song, graduation closed with the Alma Mater.

Hold infinity in the palm of your hand
And eternity in an hour.

—William Blake

An education at Harpeth Hall is a rare opportunity to experience life to its fullest—students are challenged intellectually and are encouraged to live with curiosity and enthusiasm. Each girl is exposed to a myriad of possibilities, and she has only to appreciate and to take advantage of each moment. The MILESTONES editors have striven to capture some of these moments of the 1982-83 school year.
